Bruce Yamashita just wanted to serve his country. But when his dreams were dashed by racial discrimination, he refused to surrender, and waged a lonely, five-year battle for justice in the Marine Corps. Uncovering evidence that showed minorities in the Marines had for years silently suffered from discrimination, he stood up, challenged the system, and emerged A MOST UNLIKELY HERO.

Please join us for a special screening of this film followed by a question and answer session with Steve Okino (Producer/Director/Writer) and Bruce Yamashita. Bruce will also be available for a book signing of "A Matter of Honor: The Bruce Yamashita Story".

Advanced registration is preferred, please contact Denise Kawahara at (408)288-5222 or dkawahara@jaccsv.org.
